

MOROCCO

Becky Blair

Morocco's vibrant culture has become central to British artist Becky Blair's distinctive style lexicon which fuels her fabulous textiles, painting and pottery designs. Drawing on location in magical Marrakech, Becky will show you how she sees, helping you transform your observations into a unique mark-making vocabulary, using a variety of media, bringing layered complexity to your own art practice no matter what your style.

Fabulous Fes!

If you dream of having a week to be creative in an exotic location, meeting local artisans, taking a lesson in Arabic calligraphy and other workshops from Fessi masters, enjoy amazing cuisine, vibrant music, learn about rugs, take a trip to a mountain market day, discover the souks with our good friend, the irrepressible Samir, AND stay in a beautiful riad where you can make your own art as, and when you wish (we have art materials available), please chat with Anna to express your interest soon.

IN MOROCCO

Explore this beguiling kingdom with a creative eye!

Travel is all about people, but in a country of remote mountain villages, Saharan oases and nomadic herders, it's not always easy to make those personal connections that can transform the way you experience a new culture. Anna first visited Morocco in 1986, has lived in Fes, travelled widely, curated country-wide tours and held specialist art retreats. The program in 2025 expands our art destinations from Fes to Marrakech to bring you closer to the real Morocco - you'll also receive a reading list of fascinating books that might help you prepare for this journey ... we love a good story!
